Maybe Nietzsche was right; maybe
The only true Christian died on the cross,
But that doesn't stop you
From asking yourself
What would Jesus do
When a spatter of gunfire, gangfire,
Wakes you in the night, I guess
Jesus would ride through the barrio
On a bicycle at 3am, so at least
When the squad cars don't arrive
There's a lone priest
For a mother to turn to,
Anyway, that's what you do.

You're the one they call
G-Dog, the man
They turn to so often
For a little cash for a cab
To get somewhere for an interview,
You call yourself the human
ATM machine. You're the one
They come to when they're scared,
When they're dying,
When they need to be buried,
The one who tells them nothing
Stops a bullet like a job.

Sometimes in the middle of the day
You stare out the window
Of the Homeboy Bakery, away
From the Spanish laughter
And the baking dough,
And watch the nice cars flashing by,
Row after row,
With all the nice lives inside,
That could have been me,
You think, then smile and look around
At the tattooed forearms
Beating out the bread.
Nothing stops a bullet like a job.

Maybe Nietzsche was right,
But deep in the heart
Of an LA barrio,
Down by Mission Dolores,
It's good to know
That a young man coming
To a bad road
In the middle of the night
Might ask himself before he crosses,
What would G-Dog do?

John Carroll University, honored
To honor you, father of hope,
Confers upon you the degree
Of Doctor of Humane Letters,
honoris causa.

ALUMNI MEDAL AWARDS

Presented by
Nikki Bondi
Class of 1972

Alumni Medals, the highest award of the John Carroll University Alumni Association, are presented annually to alumni and others who have, through the distinguished conduct of their lives, either brought extraordinary credit to the university or contributed conscientious service to the Alumni Association, or both. The recipients of the award this year are:

Albert J. DeGulis
Class of 1956

Al DeGulis is man of elegance and courtly manner. After graduating cum laude from John Carroll, Al earned an MBA from the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania and went on to great success in investment management, first with Central National Bank and then with Alliance Capital Management. With his beloved wife, the late Helen, Al raised three great children. In the community, he has been an exemplary man for others, serving as a trustee of St. Vincent Charity Hospital and a financial consultant to the Sisters of Charity of St. Augustine; as an investment volunteer of the Cleveland diocese and a force in the George Dively School of Urban Affairs at Cleveland State University.

For his alma mater, Al has been the son upon whom the family of John Carroll University has relied for guidance, support, generosity and enthusiasm, Al has been a trustee of John Carroll and a president of our Alumni Association. We are blessed because he lives in the university's neighborhood. We are doubly blessed because we live so powerfully in his heart. When he was president of his alma mater's alumni, Al DeGulis said, "We must do everything we can to support this university so that it continues to be a vital and deeply Jesuit center of higher learning." Al has brought to that great mission the profound gifts of his intelligence, leadership, and dedication.

The Most Rev. A. Edward Pevec, D.D.
Class of 1956

Bishop Edward Pevec '56G has long been celebrated (quietly) for humility, gentleness and the intensity of his loving attention. In his 54 years as a priest of the Cleveland Catholic Diocese, Edward Pevec has been the one who was quietly and gently present when you were sick or your heart was broken or you needed to talk or needed him to bury your father or marry your daughter. When he became a bishop in 1982, the newspaper said that "Bishop Pevec sees his role as bishop the same as his role as priest: being Jesus to others. He hopes others will be Jesus to him." He has been a powerful vicar of Christ and he has walked in the world in such a way that his message inviting others to be Jesus to him has never failed to be strikingly clear.

Before Edward Pevec became a bishop, he was a memorable pastor and an important religious educator who used well his doctorate in education in leading generations of seminarians. Since his elevation – a word that exists in tension with his deep humility – Edward Pevec has been a spiritual anchor for the Catholics of northeast Ohio. In a time of profound challenges for the Church, Bishop Pevec continues to serve as an exemplar.

Dr. Donald F. Kurtako, Ph.D.
Class of 1974

It does not quite do justice to Don Kuratko '74 to call him an academic. Force of nature might be a more illuminating description. While the Chicago native may not have invented entrepreneurship education, he has most definitely established a large equity stake in that branch of academia. Kuratko has published eight books, including the leading text in use in American universities, Entrepreneurship, a Contemporary Approach. He has written more than 150 articles on launching your own venture. Entrepreneur magazine said Kuratko is the top entrepreneurial educator in the land.

The program that he created at Ball State University in Muncie, Indiana, was assessed as the # No. 1 state university program in America. He's been named Entrepreneur of the Year, elected to the National Entrepreneurs Hall of Fame, judged to be that National Outstanding Entrepreneurship Educator, and he has effectively annexed Ball State's teaching awards – 14 consecutive years for the College of Business Teaching Award, all four of the university-wide teaching honors Ball State bestows. As the Stoops Distinguished Professor, Kuratko is the first to be named a distinguished professor of the Indiana institution's college of business. One of the nation's leading voices of entrepreneurship, the professor has inspired visions and trained a multitude to meet the challenge of bringing visions to life.

Dr. Beverly G. Hawk, Ph.D.
Class of 1975

Beverly Hawk went to South Africa as a high school exchange student and the savage injustice of racial apartheid she witnessed changed her life. She took a path in which she was the minority, pursuing Black studies and African studies, and that path led her, eventually, to come to teach at a historically black American college, and it took her on scholarly Fulbright expeditions to Kenya and Malawi.

Initially, as an academic bearing a Ph.D., Beverly Hawk's was a process of scholarly seeing. While the scholar endures and the seeing never ceased, her process has also become a process of feeling and touching and helping.

As she saw apartheid when she was a girl, she saw AIDS as an adult academic; she saw, among other causes for grief, the fact that the land of Malawi contains among two million orphans among its 10 million souls. She says now, "AIDS ate my research agenda."

She also says, "To be of service to the continent we study, Africanists must address today's health crisis." Beverly Hawk is endeavoring to do that. She has raised funds and built cultural bridges and she is studying public health so that she can find ways to help heal. She is moving deeper into the process of seeing and feeling and touching and helping.

Biography of the Commencement Speaker

Father Gregory J. Boyle, S.J. is a Jesuit priest who is Founder/Director of Jobs For A Future/Homeboy Industries, an employment referral center and economic development programs for at-risk and gang-involved youth, located in the Boyle Heights area of Los Angeles. Previously, Father Boyle was Pastor of Dolores Mission Church from 1986-1992. Dolores Mission is the poorest parish in the Los Angeles Catholic Archdiocese. The parish is comprised of the largest public housing developments west of the Mississippi (Pico Gardens and Aliso Village). These housing projects have the highest concentration of gang activity in the entire city.

Father Boyle was born in Los Angeles. He received his BA in English from Gonzaga University, an MA in English from Loyola Marymount University, a Master of Divinity from the Weston School of Theology, and an STM degree from the Jesuit School of Theology. Before becoming pastor of Dolores Mission, Father Boyle taught at Loyola High School and worked with Christian Base Communities in Cochabamba, Bolivia. He has also served as Chaplain of the Islas Marias Penal Colony in Mexico and Folsom Prison.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

When universities and parliaments about the world gather together in solemn assembly, the way is often led by a mace bearer carrying an ornamental short staff that is the symbol of the authority of the gathering body. The symbol's early predecessor was the Roman fasces, a bundle of rods bound together and carried in front of magistrates; crowds in the streets seeing the fasces would give way to the magistrate's authority. The medieval mace was originally a blunt weapon favored by clergy who were forbidden to use the sword. It also evolved into a symbol of authority; crowds quickly made way for anyone carrying such a symbol.

The design at the top of the University Mace derives from the coats of arms on the university seal, emblems of Ignatius Loyola, founder of the Jesuits. Surmounted by a cross, two bronze wolves on either side of a brass cauldron stand for the Loyolas. The Onaz clan, his maternal side, is signified by fourteen alternating red and gold bands of enamelled copper, set at an angle around the head of the mace. Beneath is the inscription in Latin: John Carroll University 1886. From the cross at the top to the horn button at the base the mace is 46 inches tall; it weighs 100 ounces. The main shaft of the mace is ebony in the form of a fasces of fourteen rods, with a slight tapering at either end. The bindings of the rods, and the head and base of the mace are all silver. A node on the base is engraved with the episcopal seal of Archbishop John Carroll, the first bishop of the United States and the eponym of the university. It depicts the Blessed Virgin with scepter and crown holding the Christ Child; thirteen stars for the thirteen states are around them, the crossed keys of St. Peter beneath, and the inscription in Latin: John, Bishop of Baltimore 1790. Inside the base is a copy of the Articles of Incorporation of the University, its charter, granted by the State of Ohio in 1890 in time to authorize the university's first degrees.

The University Mace was crafted for John Carroll by the late Solve Hallqvist, a well known local silversmith, as his last commission; it was designed by Fr. Peter Fennessy, S.J., former university marshal, and Dr. Roger Welchans, retired professor of Art History. The University Mace was a gift of the Executive Board of the John Carroll Alumni Association; it was given in memory of Fr. Michael J. Lavelle, S.J., twenty-first president of the university (1934-1995).

THE TRADITION OF ACADEMIC COSTUME

One of the more striking aspects of academic ceremonies is the colorful dress of the participants. An understanding of the traditions determining style and color of costumes can enrich one's attendance at such events. The distinctive academic dress has its origin in the universities of the middle ages where cold buildings and tonsured heads made warm gowns and protective hoods a matter of necessity. Individual institutions such as Cambridge and Oxford adopted special rules governing the kind of dress that was to be permitted, and the custom was repeated throughout Europe. It is for this reason that some of the most eye-catching gowns are those mandated by European schools.

In America, the practice has been somewhat less venturesome. Although the custom of wearing distinctive attire had existed since the time of the colonial colleges, present usage seems to date from a conference held at Columbia in 1895. From that meeting came a resolution calling for the regulation by code of what was generally to be worn at academic events. That code, revised in 1932 and again in 1960, makes recommendations as to the pattern, material, color and trimmings to be used on academic gowns.

The bachelor's gown, with long pointed sleeve, is worn closed. The master's gowns, which can be worn open, have a distinct oblong sleeve with an arc cut in the front. Doctors wear the bell shaped sleeved robes which are marked with velvet facing in front and velvet bars on the sleeve. Although these gowns are all ordinarily black, in recent years there have been exceptions made in color.

Hoods for the various degrees differ in length. Bachelors wear three foot hoods; Masters, three and a half; and Doctors, four feet. They are bound by velvet or velveteen in colors which designate the wearer's area of specialization, and they are lined with the colors of the institution granting the degree. At John Carroll, the lining is blue and gold. Many institutions, however, have dispensed entirely with the bachelors' hoods. The colors associated with the more common academic disciplines are: white for Arts and Letters; drab for Business; light blue for Education; purple for Law; dark blue for Philosophy; golden yellow for Science; and scarlet for Theology.

The cap traditionally worn is the black mortar board, although the tam and the Elizabethan will be seen on some of the faculty. The tassel is most often black, Doctors frequently wear gold, and lawyers wear purple.

Immediately following the exercises, all are welcome to refreshments in the tents on Millor and Sutowski lawns and Keller Commons.
